

January 6, 2017

The Texas Education Agency recently released their preliminary A-F ratings for Texas School Districts. These ratings are based on tests taken during the 2015-2016 school year and criteria sent out by the State this past December. The process and procedures according to the TEA are “trial run/work in progress” for the legislature to review and determine its feasibility and reliability.

We want to make it clear that these current draft results are not an indication of how well any district is doing, but rather prove that the 85th legislature and TEA have a great deal more work to do. We want our staff, parents and students to know that we are extremely proud of them, as Bruceville-Eddy ISD met state standards in 2015-2016. Bruceville-Eddy will never be defined by a letter grade of A or F because we know each student is much more than a test score on any given day.

As always, we will use our data to work on “continuous improvement” in every area of our District.

Sincerely,
